

The Friends of the Willamette Valley National Wildlife Refuge Complex invite you to join this special birding experience !

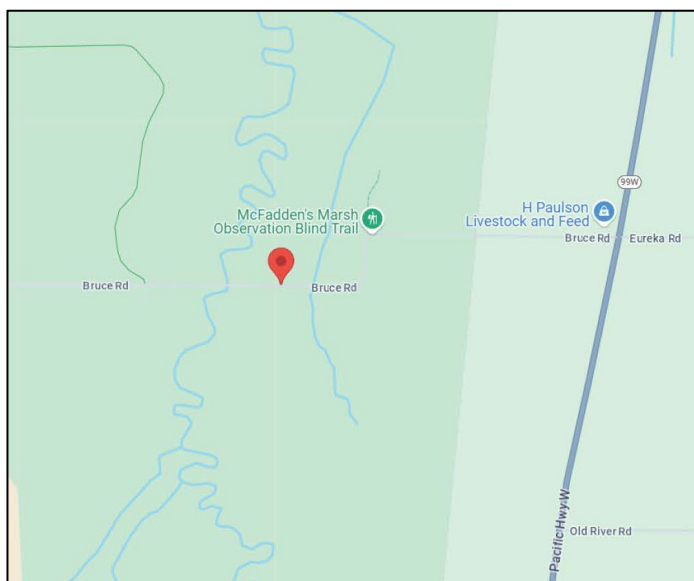

Early Morning Spring Birding

Saturday ~ May 24, 2025

Time: 7:00 am – 10:00 am

Location: West side of McFadden Marsh, William L.
Finley National Wildlife Refuge

<https://maps.app.goo.gl/xgq99dGm8Waf6b6m6>

Bring your binoculars!
Birds wake up hungry and are most active in the morning.

Discover the sights and sounds of some of the more than 250 birds at the Refuge.

About the presenter: Rich Hoyer was a naturalist long before he discovered birding at the age of 14. His musical ear is always tuned into bird voices, and he has nearly instant recall of thousands of bird songs and call notes in his head.

Rich has bachelor's degrees in Zoology and German and is a professional birding guide. The diversity of Rich's natural history interests is well represented in his blog, Birdernaturalist.